Dear Community Members,

Well, here we are again. Today is the last Sunday in September. Christmas will be here before we know it.

I had a very brief meeting with Father Vu and Father Chan last week. The main reason for the meeting was to go over basic scheduling. This we did through the end of the calendar year. I also gave Fathers Vu and Chan my scheduling proposals through the end of July next year. We'll see what happens. It always pays to be prepared. Happily, there will be no scheduling changes for us through the end of the year. We can have our Thanksgiving 9AM Mass back.

Father Orlowski checked in last Saturday, that is 9/24, on his way to Scranton. He reports that his drive to his mother's new home was rather arduous, well, arduous in that it was 14 hours and he drove straight through. He spent four days with his mom before getting back on the road to Scranton.

We had a bit of excitement last Friday, that is 9/23, after the evening Mass. A visitor began to experience the symptoms of a heart attack. Pat Brodsky quickly called 911 and the poor lady was whisked away to UAMS. I phoned her that evening and am happy to report that there was nothing serious and that she was doing fine.

Two more happy events occurred last week as well: Mrs. Witter's surgery went well and she is "rehabbing" at Good Shepherd; and I baptized Patrick and Courtney Cavin's fifth child, Miss Iris Claire. Sam and Annie Elsinger will soon be welcoming their sixth child.

The Diocese of Little Rock lost one of its brightest lights on Thursday, 22 September, Monsignor Thomas Joseph Sebaugh. He was a friend of the FSSP and often subbed for us. He served parishes both as Associate and as Pastor – including St. Patrick. He was a great intellect, a stalwart, orthodox Catholic and a very kind and gentle priest. He reputedly brought the diocese "into the 20th century" with his computer skills. He was the "go to" man for setting up and teaching the very database program we have here, the Parish Data System. I could sure have used his help when I had to learn the system myself. A Rosary was prayed last Monday evening and his funeral Mass and burial were last Tuesday. He now rests in the "Priests' Circle" at Calvary Cemetery.

Life and death. God's ways are not ours. Blessed be His Name, my children and my friends.

Father Magiera
